PROFILE

Passionate about the intersection of art and technology, I have gained valuable experience as a front-end developer, dedicated to crafting and maintaining websites for prominent clients in the news industry, with an impressive daily traffic of approximately 1 million unique users. I am driven by a desire for professional growth, aspiring to continually enhance my IT skills. My goal is to contribute to technological accessibility, striving to simplify the lives of others through innovative solutions.

WORK EXPERIENCE

PLATFORM ENGINEER

REBELMOUSE - NEW YORK, USA (REMOTE) | 2021 - 2023

Collaborating with a globally distributed team spanning over 30 countries, I specialized in developing responsive websites for SaaS clients. My role involved seamless integration of advertisements and third-party services, creation of customized endpoints, incorporation of GraphQL, implementation of UI features using JavaScript, and design of newsletter templates. Adhering to Core Web Vitals standards, my work significantly enhanced website performance, expanding user reach by an impressive 35-50%.

Key Accomplishments:

- Facilitated collaboration with backend and design teams, contributing to the development of web and ecommerce products.
- Successfully implemented over 5 full website structures, meticulously ensuring code and logic accuracy to deliver pixel-perfect design fidelity. These projects provided B2B SaaS services to clients and companies across the US, UK, and EU.
- Managed 10+ projects involving routine maintenance, bug fixes, and addition of functionalities to meet the diverse requirements of globally distributed clients.
